Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 24 August 2001.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 7-12, 15, 17-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Furukawa (6,051,945).

Furukawa discloses a window position detection and anti-pinch system for a vehicle door having a window, the system comprising: at least one sensing device (54a and 54b) disposed adjacent the window for detecting the position of the window relative to the frame, the sensor producing an output signal representative of the window position; and a controller responsive to the output signal for comparing the output signal against predetermined values to determine whether an obstruction exists as disclosed in the abstract. Furukawa discloses a first sensing device for sensing position and second sensing device for sensing obstruction as disclosed in the abstract. Energy is blocked when obstruction is detected and the motor is reversed as seen in figure 8. The encoder of Furukawa is rotatable and further monitors pulses as discussed in column 4, line 64 through column 5, line 25. The encoder further has a multipole magnet.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2-6, 13, 14, 16, 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Furukawa in view of Seeberger et al.

Furukawa is discussed above. Furukawa fails to disclose a coding detection of the window nor a photo-interrupter.

However, Seeberger et al. provides a coding detection of the window as seen in figures 3 and 4, wherein position is measured.

Official Notice is taken with respect to photo-interrupters being well known in the art for detecting window position and outputting a window obstruction or position signal.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to utilize the teachings of Seeberger et al. and the well known photo-interrupter with the apparatus of Furukawa, because the combination provides a variety of ways of position and obstruction detection in order to reverse a window in the case of obstruction.
